THE STRUCTURE . . .

The day has finally arrived when the hopes and dreams and plans of many people have been realized. The large steel beams first are seen rising slowly against the horizon. Then the roof, floors, and partitions are added. At last you can see painters, electricians, brickmasons, plumbers, and various other workmen placing the finishing touches on the building, all working together to bring to the youth of Cherokee County a new modern school. This is our Cherokee High School.

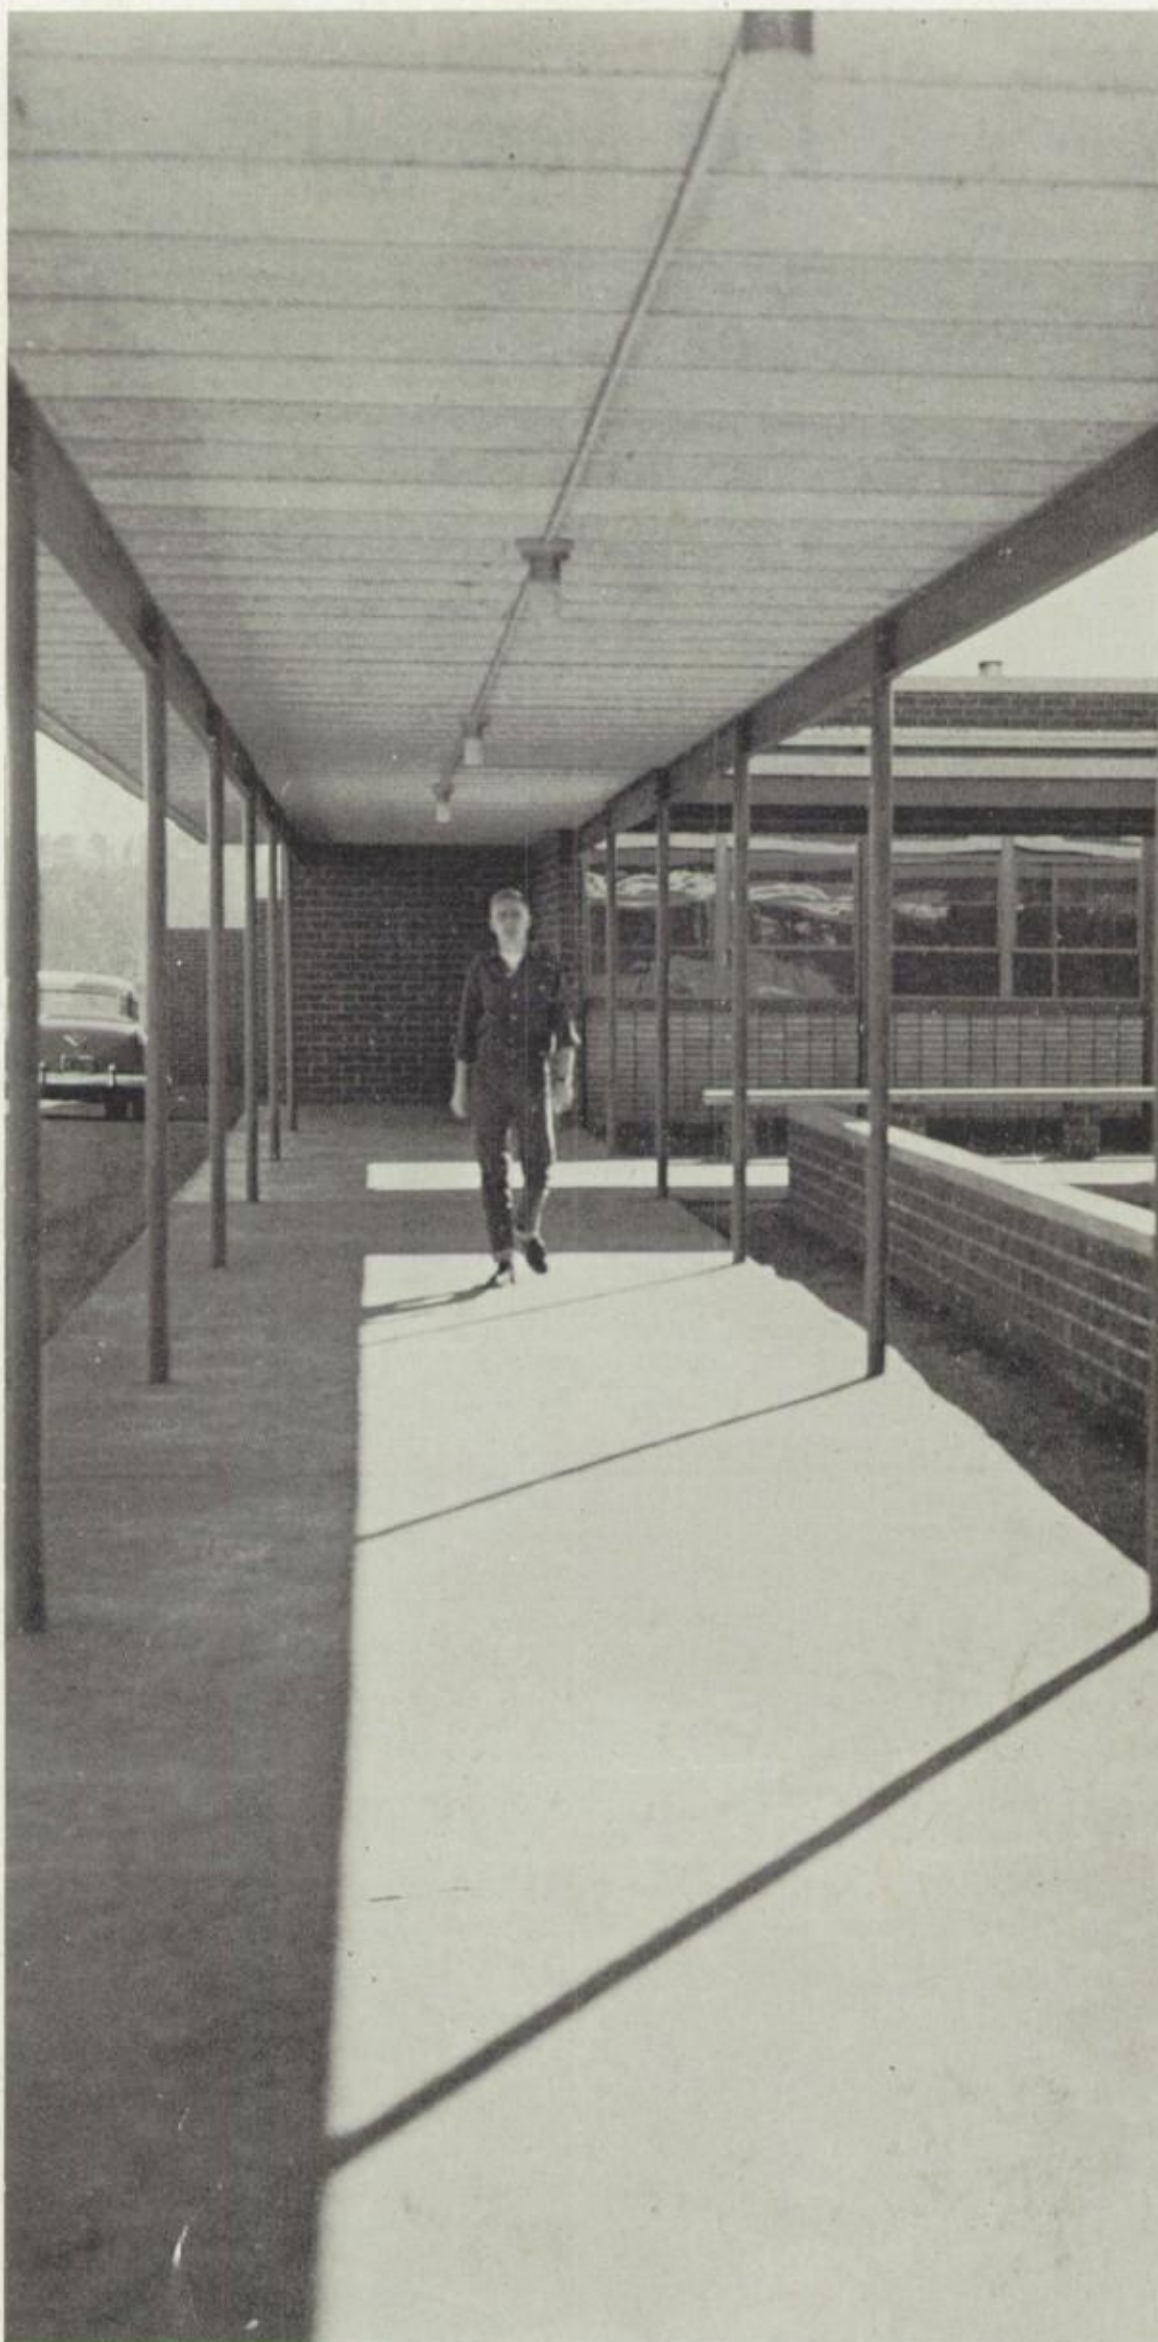

FOREWORD

As we complete our first year in this modern structure of education and life, we find ourselves absorbed in people—what they do, what they feel, what they want, what they think. And in this book, along with many more firsts, we have tried to reflect the patterns of lives represented in a structure of steel for strength, and windows of glass for opportunity.

We are constantly captivated by vitality and variety with which people—the high, the low, the real, and the obscure—lead their lives which is charted through school—a new school, a construction, to construct all types of minds to a level of happiness and a degree of understanding whether in joy or wisdom, folly or mere existence. Our reflection of the foundation—the objects that are before our eyes, address our minds and reach into our hearts and leave a footprint on our past—

THE PEOPLE . . .

The Premier of our own modern era—Knowledge, new life, and mirth.

Yea man—check this new school

Happiness echoes through the halls

As a result of progress, confusion no longer remains.

THE PATTERNS . . .

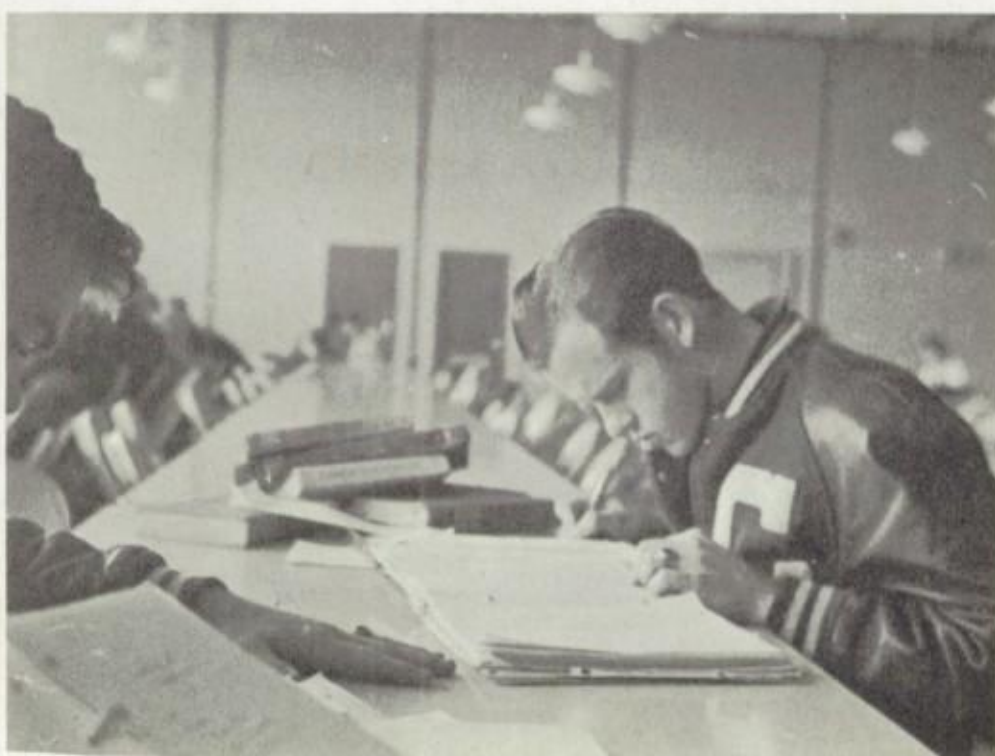

Enthusiastic school spirit

The ambition for knowledge grows stronger through expert guidance.

I'm late, I'm late, for a very important class.

Concentration is the key to success.

MR. ROY DAWN

DEDICATION

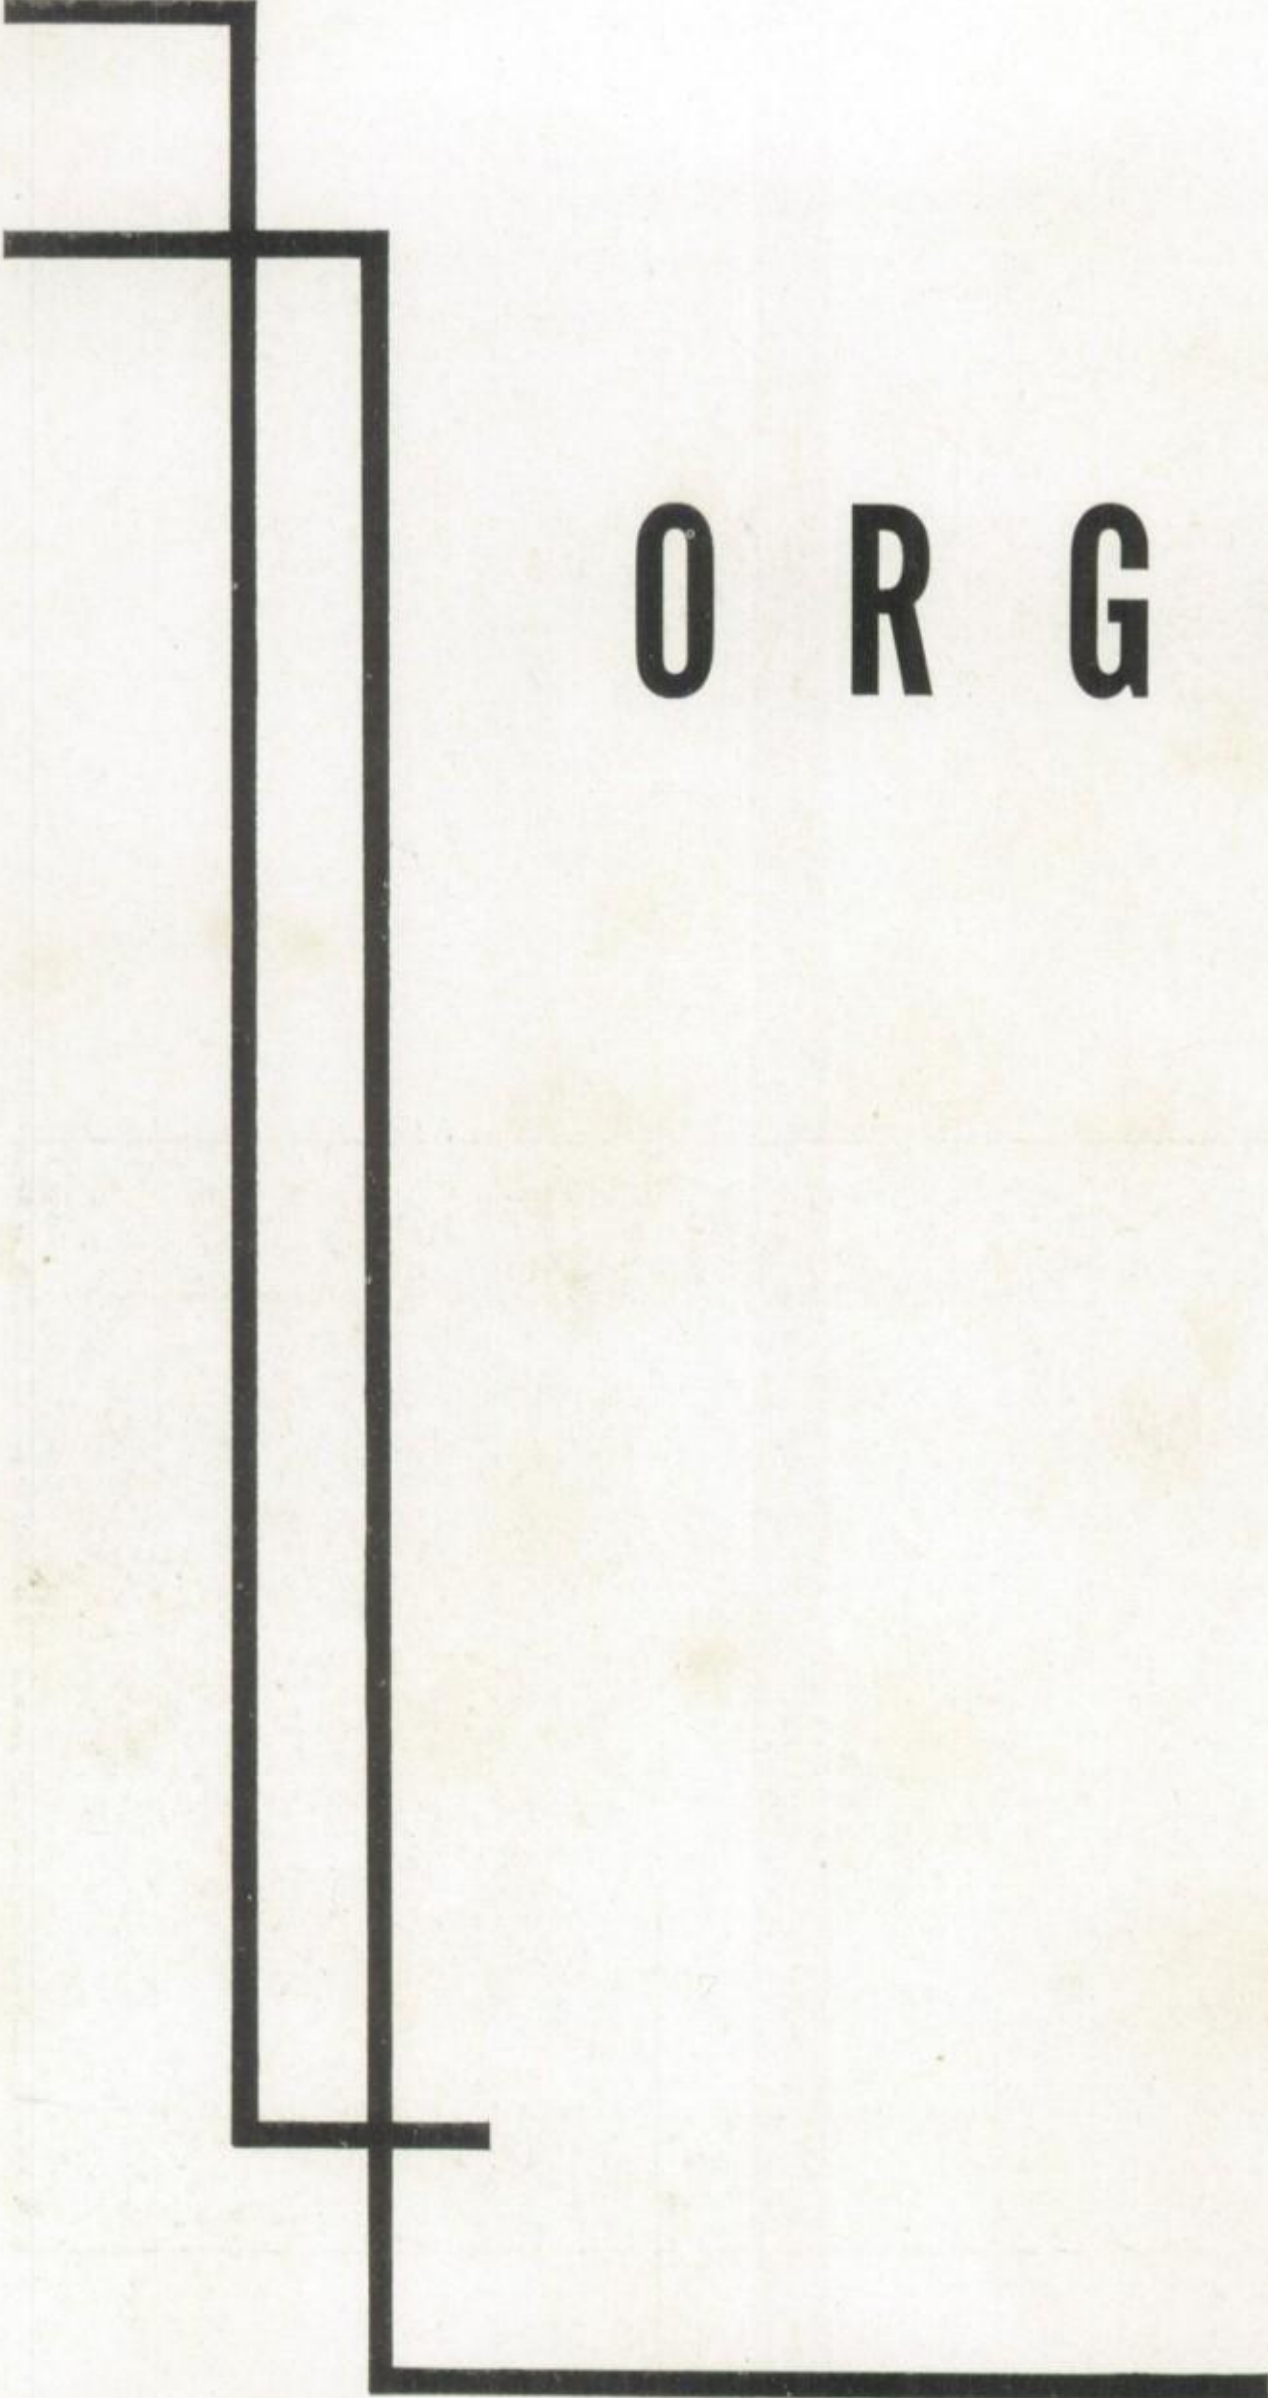

The 1957 SEQUOYAH is dedicated to Mr. Roy Dawn, as he is so unselfishly dedicated to the band, classes, school, his friends, and family. This man whom the SEQUOYAH has chosen hands down on the first ballot has acquired our respect and admiration unconsciously throughout his everyday life.

His title is Director of the Cherokee Band of Warriors, and if you keep a close watch on him as the student body has in their admiration, you will catch a witty remark or a sly grin or nod. Don't think he isn't watching "you guys", the student body, in all activities and cheering, our teams to victory with hurrahs and encouraging music.

These qualities would certainly assure our respect, but our decision was guided by what he means to us, and what he has done for us. The band under his direction has risen to excellent ratings, perfect time, and organization. The sixty band members have been counseled, their talents developed, and the football team has been followed over the state by Mr. Dawn and the group he has developed with his initiative and leadership.

So with the dedication of this book, the greatest honor the SEQUOYAH can bestow—we seek to express our gratitude to Mr. Roy Dawn.

Bright ideas for the night's work were quickly and plainly brought to the point.

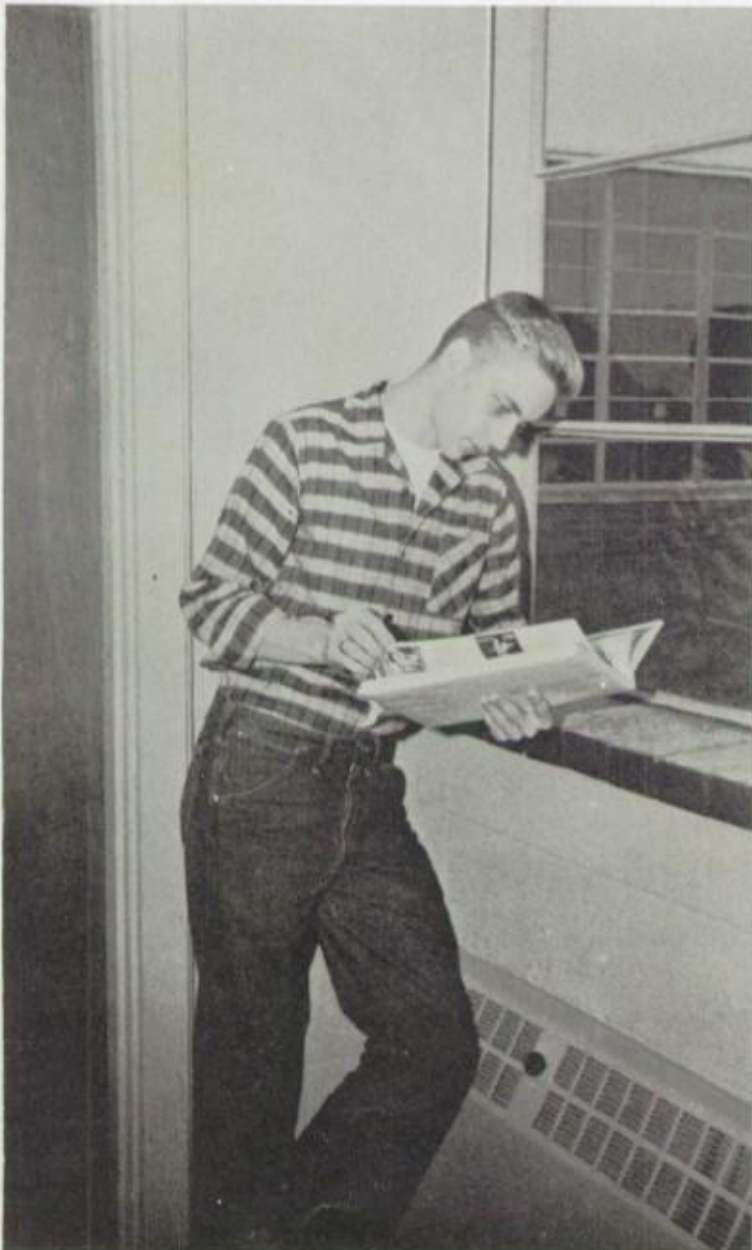

Early morning snapshots were our skilled photographer's specialty.

Hard work accompanied the midnight oil burned many nights by faithful members.

The Editor-in-Chief, Don Marlowe, deserves full credit for his untiring efforts, superior ideas, and unlimited talents which have made the 1957 Sequoyah one of the outstanding highlights of the year.

DON STAMPS

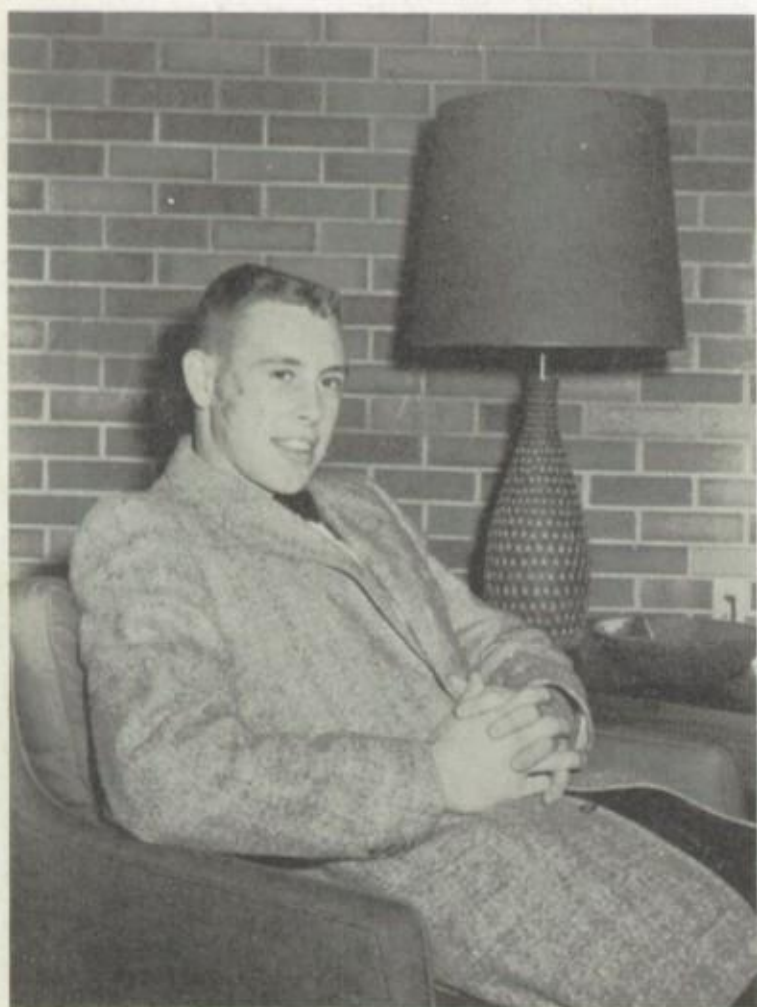

Time and time again Don has proved his unswerving dependability to complete the tasks confronting him. Having devoted himself diligently to any problem that has been his, he has not only excellent in his accomplishments as a scholar but the spirit behind all his endeavors has been one of cooperating willingly.

Each person represented on these pages has contributed willingly of time and effort toward the goals of the school and toward the goals of individual achievement; consequently, the SEQUOYAH proudly presents the students of Who's Who, the ones who through the eyes of the faculty have been outstanding in all phases of their school life.

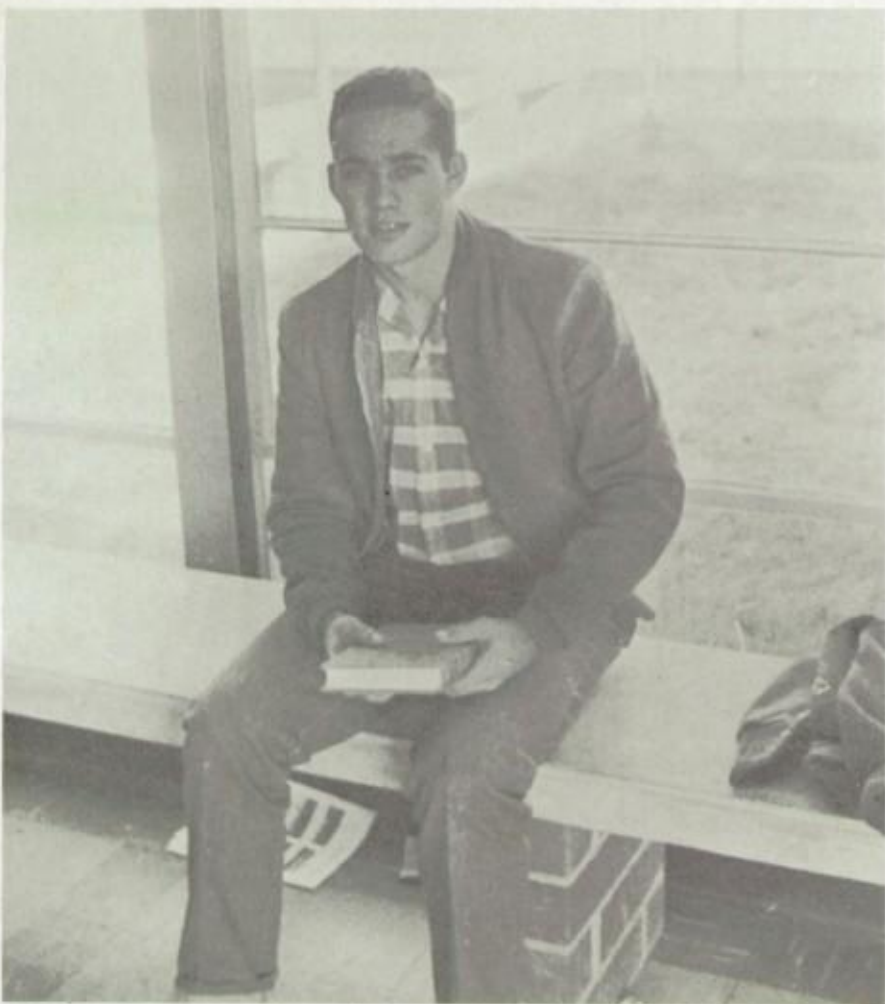

MARY FRANCES BRYANT

During the year Mary Frances as President of the Beta Club and Editor of THE CHIEFTAIN has been an inspiration to many of her associates. The many varied activities to which she has devoted her time and effort have reflected the sterling qualities that have endeared her to all.

BART MANOUS

The athletic program of Cherokee High and the senior class would have had a vacant spot had it not been for the calm assurance added by Bart. He has been an asset to each of the many positions and tasks which have fallen his way during his four years of high school.

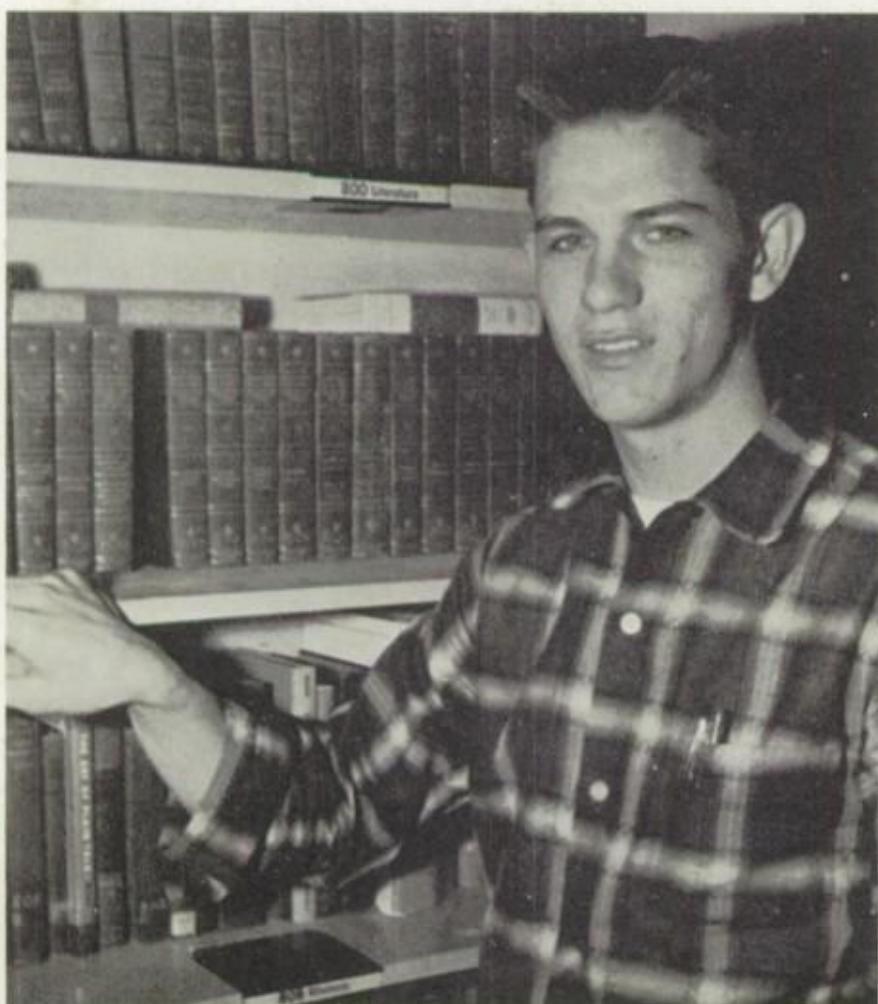

KENNETH CLARK

As treasurer of the Senior Class, Kenneth embodies the trust of his fellow students. This trust extends beyond the duties of his office well into the area of his relationship with both students and faculty.

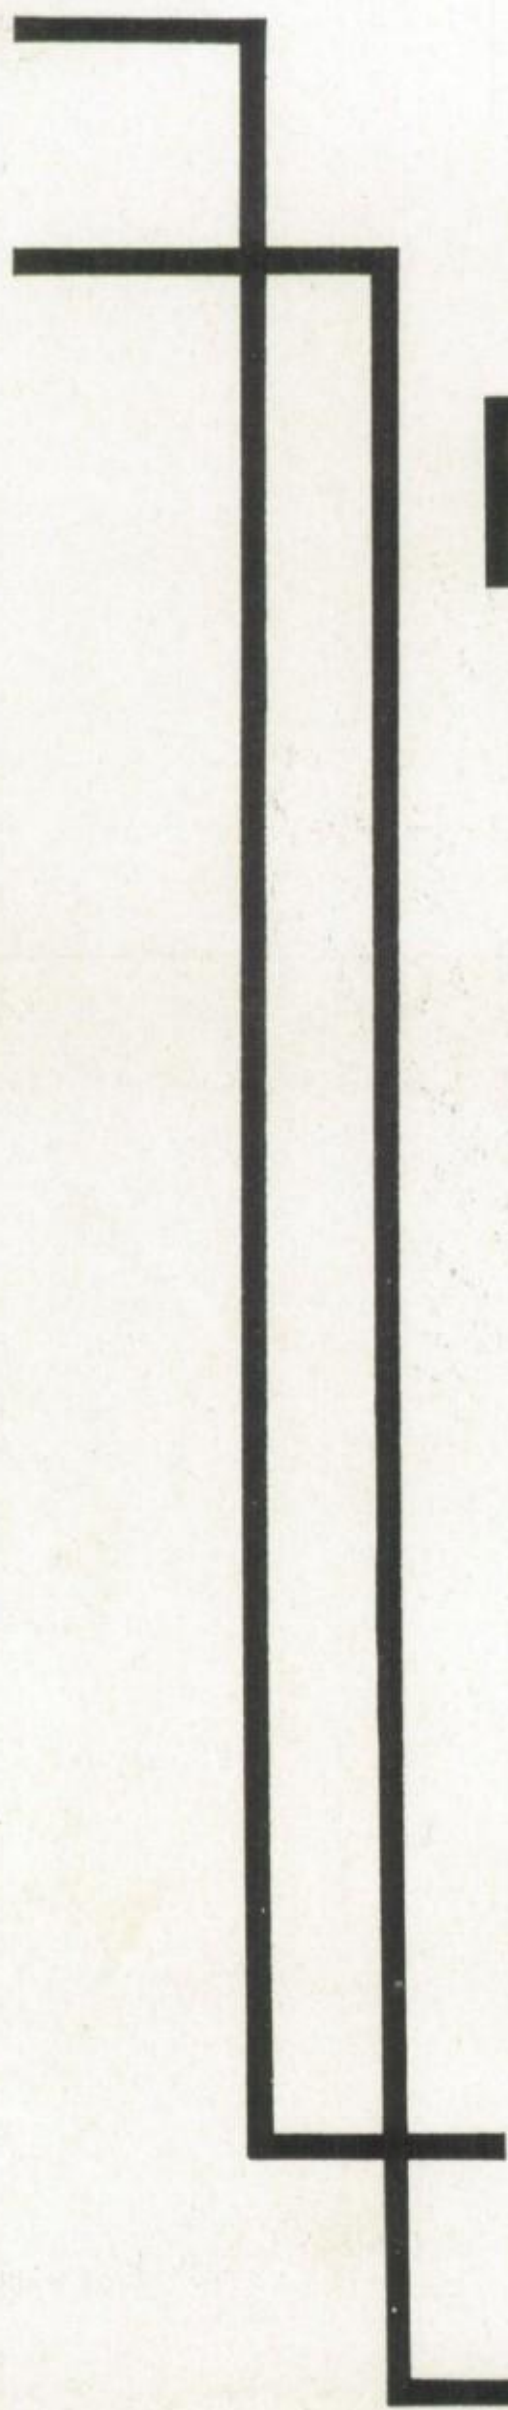

SARA BEAVERS

Versatility is the word that most aptly describes Sara. Although her contributions and accomplishments have been numerous throughout her academic years, these tasks have not interfered with her scholastic work or her effervescent personality.

LOYED BURGESS

Even though the year 1955-56 brought to Loyed obstacles which might have daunted one of less stamina, he rallied forth to accept the leadership of the 1956-57 Senior Class, and in his own quiet but willing manner he has assumed all responsibilities that were given him.

Lamar Hicks is awarded the trophy as the "Most Improved Player of '57" by President of the Booster Club, Homer Pharr.

All-State Center, Billy Jack Little, receives trophy for "Most Valuable Player" which is presented by Homer Pharr on behalf of the Cherokee Warrior Booster Club.

This year's team is one which will long remain in the memory of Cherokee High Fans. Although the team had only twelve returning lettermen and faced strong competition, it ended the season with a 5-5 record, and lost three of its games by low scores of 0-6, 7-13, and 6-7. Led by Captains Little, Manous, and Adams, along with such outstanding players as Lamar Hicks, Joe Dowda, Jerry White, Roy Blalock, Donald Herring, Wayne Camp, Norris Price, and Weyman Biddy, the Warriors ran, blocked, and tackled its way into the early history of Cherokee High, and third place in the region. A tremendous job of coaching was done by Coaches Dickerson, Harris, and Ruggles. Many juniors and sophomores bore much of the load and gave promise of good teams in years to come.

Quarterback, Joe Dowda, slaps quietus on Rockmart locomotive.

Touchdown bound!

CHEERLEADERS

The heart of the school spirit is the Cheerleaders. These energetic girls promote interest, spirit, encouragement, and victory. Traveling over the northern part of Georgia cheering our teams to victory has created a backbone for the entire student body.

Joy Avery, Captain; Shirley Hembree, Mike Booth, Tilla Dobbs, Wava Gramling, Janice Cummings, Beverly Ward, Doris Vaughn.

George Denney, Manager; Kertis Bramblett, Jerry White, Larry Jernigan, Lynn Bevis, Ralph Cagle, Coach David Harris.
Row Two—Kenneth Blalock, Bart Manous, Floyd Smith, John Wilson, Roy Blalock.

Coach Harris talks over the pre-game strategy with co-captain Jernigan, captain White, and co-captain Bevis.

Bart Manous shoots his specialty, a jump shot from the corner.

Floyd Smith fires another two points as Jernigan watches.

Kertis Bramblett drives in for an easy layup after stealing the ball.

CHEROKEE WARRIORETTES

Parrie Jean Pinyan, Ann Anderson, Elaine Ball, Alice Thompson, Marlene Haynes, Becky Leslie, Barbara Tippens, Sara Jo Stephens, Eunice Kimberly, Shirley Hembree, Harriett Allison, Mary Joyce Croft, Thelma Haynes, Nancy Cloud, Kay Perkins. Kneeling—Coach Dickerson.

ELAINE BALL, Sr.
Forward

The Warriorettes of Cherokee High ended the 1956-57 season with a 16-6 record . . . a fine showing indeed. Although the team was plagued by injuries throughout the entire season, the girls under the excellent coaching of Cecil Dickerson, showed a spirit of determination and a will to win. Capably led by Captain Mary Joyce Croft and Alternate Captain Sara Jo Stephens, and sparked by the offensive playing of Elaine Ball, the team entered the Region 3-AA Play-offs with high hopes of the Championship and a berth in the State tournament at Macon.
